The values of the Kingdom of God, when compared with the values of the world - can be described as the 'upside down kingdom' - that is because God's values are almost opposite to what matters to the world in general.

Or the kingdom of God could also be known as the 'right side up' kingdom - because God's values are what matter the most. Jesus reversed the values of the world.

This was the powerful message given to his disciples and the early church.

So, when Jesus came preaching about God's love of all, that those who are hurting and lowly are important to God too, this was revolutionary.

In Matthew 5 - the Beatitudes - Jesus was basically saying that as believers the world's opinion and the world's priorities do not have to shape how we live.

We belong to God's kingdom where losers are winners, and the last will be first.

Where the leaders are the servants, and the weak are strong. The blessed are those who know their need and cry out to God, who focus their lives on the Lord, keeping Jesus in their sights as they journey through life.

This morning we are invited to reflect on the values we live by.

What are the core values that you have based your life on?

Have you ever written them down?

If you haven't, then I encourage you to take some time to do this. Where the 'rubber meets the road', what are the values that guide you?
